GOOD SCHOOLS.

REV. REID ADDRESSED THE PUPILS—PLEASED WITH THEIR WORK.

Rev. J. C. Reid, of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, delivered a very fine address to the pupils of the High school this morning at 8:30 at the Washington building. His subject was "Despising a Birthright" and the subject could not have been better selected. In the address Rev. Reid impressed upon the pupils the advantages and the fine opportunities of free schools and also touched on those who do not take advantage of his birthright. The address was greatly enjoyed.

After the address was finished Dr. Reid visited several rooms and attended several recitations and found the schools in the best condition. The work as he found it is as far advanced and the methods of teaching as thorough as in any school he ever visited.

THE SPEED.

THE WORK OF UNLOADING HER CARGO PROGRESSING.

Memphis, Dec. 5.—Memphis will see the last of the steamer John K. Speed in all probability today. The work of unloading the big boat progressed all day yesterday, and it was not finished by night, nor is it absolutely certain that it will be done in the time for her to move today. It is a tedious business, as the captain broke, necessitating all the freight to be lifted out of her hold by hand for a time. When it is considered that this comprises over a thousand barrels of molasses, besides a large amount of linters and cotton in bales, the labor involved can be appreciated. The steamer Sunshine, which left Cincinnati yesterday, will take up the greater portion of the Speed's freight. She is due to leave this point on December 10.

Capt. Don A. Marr said yesterday afternoon that just as soon as the unloading of the freight was completed he would take the boat up in the eddy above the Organ wharfbow and get a diver to work to ascertain the exact nature and extent of the hole in the bow, which has not yet been done. If possible the hole would be patched up before she goes to Mound City. Captain Marr also said that a great deal of credit for the success of raising was due to the three divers engaged on it, who labored incessantly. They are Captain Daniel O. Dawson of this city, Captain John Guire of St. Louis and Captain Snell of New Orleans. Walter Connor, who was one of the pilots on the Speed when she sank, will take her to Mound City, where she will go on the ways.

The dredge boat John N. Macomb, which passed Greenville at daylight on the 1st, on her way to this point, will dredge the channel where the accident occurred, and try to remove the fateful obstruction.

QUIT BUSINESS.

A LOCAL COMMISSION HOUSE TEMPORARILY SUSPENDED BUSINESS.

The Southern Stock and Grain Company, of St. Louis, which had an agency on lower Broadway under the No. Richmond hotel, retired from business last night, and as a result there was no "wire" at the local office this morning. It is said that the firm was on the wrong side of cotton.

Mr. Jenkins, the agent and manager, has gone to St. Louis, to secure another wire, according to Operator W. B. Herbst, and is expected back tomorrow morning, when the house will reopen.

Judge Wm. H. Green of Cairo, attorney for the St. Louis division of the Illinois Central, who has held the position for twenty-five years, has resigned, effective January 1. He will be succeeded by Judge W. W. Barr of Carbonale, Ill.
